About Us

Founded in 2017, Platorien Group is a B2B focused production and design partner providing end to end solutions for fashion brands.

We manage the entire process from concept to final product, including design development, sampling, and mass production. By combining manufacturing expertise with a strong design vision, we deliver flexible, cost efficient, and high quality solutions tailored to each client.

Our production network allows us to support both emerging brands with low MOQs and large scale productions with consistent quality and speed.

With design and production under one roof, we offer both ready made collections and fully customized developments, ensuring each product aligns with the brand's identity.

Today, Platorien operates internationally, helping brands grow with reliable, sustainable, and high quality production partnerships.
